

Does my bank have to modify my loan?

No. However, the bank must check whether you are eligible for a loan modification and communicate with you in mediation.

What happens if we can't settle or my case is not eligible for mediation?

Once your case leaves the program, you will have 21 days to file an appearance and answer or other responsive pleading to the complaint for mortgage foreclosure. The legal proceeding will then continue in court.

17TH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT COURT OF ILLINOIS

RESIDENTIAL MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE MEDIATION PROGRAM

HOMEOWNER BROCHURE

What is mediation and how can it help me?

The 17th Judicial Circuit of Illinois' Residential Mortgage Foreclosure Mediation Program provides a unique opportunity to aid families throughout the county who are in foreclosure.

Mediation is a process where a neutral third-party (a trained mediator) helps borrowers and lenders communicate to explore options available to a homeowner.

While not every mediation resolves the foreclosure, the process can give homeowners an opportunity to speak directly with a representative of their lending institution and may generate options for resolving the foreclosure, including possible loan modification and other available options.

Who is eligible?

This program is available to homeowners in a residential foreclosure case:

- Filed on or after June 1, 2014 in Winnebago County,
- Filed on or after November 1, 2014 in Boone County

The Court may also refer cases to the Program on a case-by-case basis.

What do I have to do to participate?

1. Go to ILForeclosureProgram.org to learn more and to submit an application online with HomeStart within 21 days of either receiving a foreclosure complaint or a referral from the Court.
Homeowners may contact HomeStart at 815-962-2011 if online access is not available, or if language assistance is needed.
2. Submit any supporting documents requested by HomeStart within 14 days of submitting your application.
3. Participate in a pre-mediation conference with HomeStart. The purpose of this conference is to discuss possible options with a housing counselor, after the counselor has been able to review your financial situation.
4. Attend the mediation session and participate in good faith.
5. Comply with all program requirements and meet all deadlines.

Does participating in, or requesting, mediation stop the foreclosure case filed against me?

All legal proceedings will be on hold while you are participating in the program.

Do I have to pay anything?

No, there is no cost to homeowners for housing counseling and mediation services. This program is supported by several sources, including the Office of the Illinois Attorney General and the Circuit Court through court filing fees.

Will the mediator issue a decision in my case?

No. The mediator will help you and your bank's representatives talk to each other to explore the available options.

What is HomeStart?

HomeStart is a nonprofit, HUD-certified housing counseling agency. HomeStart helps area residents buy, improve, and save their homes from foreclosure.

Please note that HomeStart will work with you and will provide housing counseling even if you are not eligible for the Mediation Program.
